Democrats Meet To Organize and Get Smith's Views

National Committee
Democratic National Committee anxious to have Governor decide who shall be chairman—Problem of Strategy Committee in fixing date for notification.

New York, July 11 (AP).—The Democratic national committee assembled here today to organize and get first hand the views of Governor Smith on the conduct of the campaign.

Particularly, the men and women taking up its membership, sought advice from the presidential nominee as the selection of a committee chairman who will conduct operations against the Republicans, and in the fixing of dates for the official notification of him and his running mate, Senator Robinson of Arkansas.

Both of the nominees were in town for the committee meeting, and Governor Smith, before attending it, had an engagement to discuss campaign plans with Senator Reed of Missouri, who made a spirited fight against him for the Democratic nomination.

At the invitation of Mr. Smith, the Missourian came to New York for a conference and after his arrival here last night he gave every indication that he would "go to the end of the road" in support of the party cause.

"I'm going to do all I can to elect the ticket," declared the Senator in a vigorous attack on the Republican administration, castigating among others Herbert Hoover, now the Republican nominee.

Smith had a morning appointment with Reed, who is staying at the Baltimore where the governor resides here. The national committee meeting was arranged for the afternoon, and it was planned to hold it behind closed doors at the National Democratic Club.

Smith wants advice on chairman. Designation of a chairman to succeed Clem Shaver of West Virginia was in reality left to Governor Smith, who has indicated, however, a desire to have advice from committee members before making a definite recommendation.

For some time the word has been going the rounds that Smith prefers Senator Gerry of Rhode Island for the post. There also has been talk of Senator Pittman of Nevada, who has been a house guest of the governor and motored with him from Albany yesterday, but suggestions have been made that it might be best to place direction of the campaign in the hands of a business man. In this connection the names of Owen D. Young, chairman of the board of the General Electric Company, Melvin Taylor, a Chicago bank president, and others have been mentioned.

Fight On for Vice Chairman
In addition to filling the shoes of Clem Shaver, who took over the committee reins four years ago after his friend, John W. Davis, had been nominated, the committee was called on to name a successor to Mrs. Emily Blair, of Missouri, as vice chairman. She no longer is a member.

There is a scrap on for her place with friends of Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, former governor of Wyoming, claiming she has the edge over Mrs. Florence Farley, committee woman from Kansas. Mrs. Bernice Pyke, of Ohio, and several others who have argued in speculation.

Notification Ceremony Presents Problem
In determining when Smith should be notified of his nomination and thus given an opportunity to deliver an acceptance speech discussing the issues of the campaign, he and party leaders have been confronted with a problem of strategy. The Hoover notification has been set for August 11. If the Democrats, as is their custom, stand by until after that ceremony, it will be mid-August before Smith has his say to the country. Some strategists want him to fire the first gun, and are suggesting late July or the first week of August for his notification.

The date for appraising Robinson formally of his nomination will be about a week after that set for the Smith ceremony. The vice presidential nominee, who dropped off at Albany Monday for a chat with the governor, came out here yesterday with the suggestions that the Democratic should establish a regional campaign headquarters in the south in order to beat an attempt by the Republicans to win over part of the "solid south."

Robinson came to New York with Jesse H. Jones, Houston financier, who has indicated that as finance director he will report to the national committee that it not only starts off the campaign out of debt but with a $200,000 nest egg to finance preliminary operations.

As time for the meeting of the national committee, drew near the rumor began to crystallize, with the name of John J. Raskob, chairman of the finance committee of General Motors, most frequently mentioned as the probable selection as successor to Clem Shaver.

Many observers believed that Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, former Governor of Wyoming, was definitely slated for the choice for director of finances to succeed Jesse Jones would be Col. Herbert H. Lehman, New York banker.

Wells Again Missing
Thaddeus Wells, an inmate of the City House, has again disappeared from that institution, and on Tuesday the police to pick him up if found.

Minor Parties Oppose Merger

Prohibition and Farmer-Labor Party Leaders Desire New Single Party
Neither Is Willing To Be Subordinate To The Other.

Chicago, July 11 (AP).—Separate presidential candidates, rather than a fusion choice, appeared the likely outcome of the Prohibition and Farmer-Labor Party conventions as each moved into its second session today.

Party leaders in both groups desired to replace the two groups with a new single party, but a lengthy conference of three delegates from each convention yesterday failed to reach any desirable plan of amalgamation.

Late hour prophets last night were unanimous in the opinion that each group would select its own candidate today, when both conventions were expected to end.

Neither party appeared willing to become subordinate to the other. A single antiwet plank was the Prohibitionists' aim, while the Farmer-Laborites opposed a dry declaration.

The defeat of Smith is the principal aim of the Prohibition Party declared Dr. D. Leigh Colvin of New York, keynoter of the dries. A need for new party alignments, due to the neglect of the laboring man, was stressed by Mrs. Laura Hughes Lunde, Chicago, who delivered the Laborites' keynote speech.

Mrs. Lunde charged both major parties with being equally guilty of corruption, citing the "war graft" of the Democrats and the "Republican little green house on K street."

Privilege has taken control in the United States while the people have been asleep, she asserted.

"The recent investigation shows the whole Republican Party dripping with oil," she continued. "If Senator Borah wanted to cleanse the party he should have suggested that all who knew about the deal be expelled. It would be a long list—Coolidge, Hoover, Hughes, Denby, Daugherty, Hays, Mellon and Roosevelt."

Only 22 states were represented on the Prohibition roll call, while 10 western and middle western states and the District of Columbia completed the Farmer-Labor list.

Louis DeWitt to Lose Left Leg
Man Through Whose Body Passed a 7-foot Silver of Wood at the Lorillard Plant on Monday Is to Have Left Leg Amputated at Knee at Kingston Hospital.

Louis DeWitt of Foxhall avenue, through whose body passed a 7-foot silver of wood at the Lorillard plant on Grand street on Monday, will lose his left leg which has to be amputated at the knee. This morning at the City of Kingston Hospital it was stated that while his condition was still critical it was somewhat improved.

DeWitt was at work at a wood-sawing machine at the time of the accident. He was rushed to the hospital where it was found that the 7-foot silver of wood had entered at the left groin and passed completely through the body, emerging on the right side. Dr. Frank A. Johnston and Dr. C. B. VanGansbeek placed the injured man on the operating table and removed from his body not only slivers of wood but slivers of fractured bone. It was also found that the large pelvic bone had been shattered. It was stated today that the left leg at the knee in order to save the man's life.

CEMENTON CULVERT SCENE OF ANOTHER AUTO CRASH
Tuesday morning a Chevrolet sedan was crushed into a shapeless mass and a Packard eight sedan was badly damaged in a collision at the Cementon culvert. The Chevrolet was owned by George H. Coons of West Camp. In the car were Mr. Coons, his son, Addison, and Almo Mousseau, the latter driving the Chevrolet. All three were cut and bruised and were attended by Dr. B. W. Gifford at the Beers Sanitarium at Saugerties. The driver of the Packard had a slight cut on his head but did not go to the Sanitarium. The Packard was being driven by George Samuels, a chauffeur, of New York, and with him were two girl hikers, who had been given a hitch enroute. They were not hurt and continued their journey.

MORE REBELS SURRENDER TO MARINES
Managua, July 11 (AP).—Sixty-six more rebels surrendered to American marines yesterday and asked amnesty and safe conduct to their homes.

Marine headquarters announced that the policy of granting citizenship and protection to those who had been forced into the hills but who desired to labor in peace had been vindicated. It will probably be continued until the authorities are convinced that the remaining rebel groups are composed entirely of the criminal type who must be defeated by force of arms.

Nail "Nailed" By Police for Petit Larceny

Carmine Joseph Nail, 21, of Suffern, Told Tail Tale of Big Construction Job at Glisco on Strength of Which He Borrowed Cash—Hearing Friday.

The Fall Guys' Association, which flourished in Kingston several years ago, shows signs of activity and the Borrowers' Branch of the association has just been organized with two charter members, while one Carmine Joseph Nail, 21 years old, of Suffern, N. Y., is in the county jail awaiting a hearing on Friday in police court before Judge Shufeldt. Nail was "nailed" by Sergeant James V. Simpson at the West Shore station where he was waiting for a railroad train to convey him to Newburgh on Tuesday.

According to the story unfolded in police court on Tuesday when Nail faced Judge Shufeldt, he had come to Kingston a day or so before the Fourth of July, and a few days ago he decided he needed some ready cash. With that end in view he approached one of the local business men and informed him that his father was head of a big contracting company who never touched a job under $100,000.

Borrowed $25 in Cash.
The senior Mr. Nail, according to the son, had been engaged to erect nineteen six-family apartment houses at Glisco, and expected to start work this month. The son expected a draft for $5,000 to arrive here on Monday and in the meantime would like to borrow $25. The amount asked was cheerfully handed over, more especially so when young Nail claimed to have asked his business friend if he could recommend any laborers to him to employ on the Glisco job. Nail said he understood that laborers were receiving $5 in Kingston, but he would be willing to pay $6 a day for good men.

Borrowed from Landlord.
During his brief stay in Kingston young Nail had been boarding up town and owed for a week's room. That did not faze him, however, for he is also claimed to have borrowed $40 from his landlord. The landlord, however, was willing to take a loss and did not lodge any complaint against the youth but had appeared in police court at the request of Sergeant Simpson who had been investigating the case.

Borrowed About $115.
According to the police, young Nail in the past three or four days had borrowed about $115. He is under arrest, however, on only the one charge of obtaining $25 under false pretenses.

Wanted to Go on Farm.
In police court Tuesday young Nail informed Judge Shufeldt that he was willing to make restitution and asked to be placed on a farm where his wages would be turned over to the men he had borrowed from. He said he would even do without spending money until his obligations had been met.

To Inform Nail's Parents.
After talking the matter over, Judge Shufeldt decided to adjourn the case until Friday to give the boy's parents an opportunity to come to Kingston.

VAUGHN, CONVICTED SLAYER, BACK IN DEATH CELL
Union City, Tenn., July 11 (AP).—Rohanne Vaughn, 21-year old slayer of his rival in love, was back in the death cell of the county jail here today after spending five days in West Illinois woods while deputies searched West Tennessee for him. Vaughn, under death sentence, escaped from jail last Thursday night with four companions by cutting a hole in the jail wall.

He telephoned Sheriff J. R. McCain from his home yesterday and told the officer "I'm ready for my room." The startled sheriff led the youth back to jail where he must wait until the state supreme court reviews his case.

At the jail the slayer told McCain "I didn't want to wrong you" and added that he left jail to attend to some "business" and expected to return the next morning.

He didn't say what the "business" was. A note was found in Vaughn's cell after he escaped which said he would "be back tomorrow."

He was convicted of killing Roland Bell last March and sentenced to the electric chair.

FANATICS KILLED IN BATTLE WITH TROOPS
Manila, July 11 (AP).—Constabulary headquarters here today issued a statement saying that Maru Sedon, leader of the Paljanes, a fanatical religious sect, and four of his followers had been killed in a battle with constabulary troops at Isabella, Occidental Negros Province.

The report said a "constabulary detachment was pursuing another group of fanatics in that vicinity." Sedon and his followers were overtaken by the officers after they had escaped from an encounter with the constabulary on June 29 and July 1, in which two natives were killed and several wounded.

A desire to avenge the arrest of one of their leaders is said to have caused the outbreak.

Women's Part in Hoover Campaign

Mrs. Alvin T. Hert Will Call a Meeting of National Committee Women For Atlantic States to Map Out Program.

Washington, July 11 (AP).—Not forgetting the women voters in planning Secretary Hoover's campaign for the presidency, the leaders of the party have assigned a prominent role to Mrs. Alvin T. Hert, a vice chairman of the national committee.

She has been called upon to organize the activities of the women campaign workers, a post which she filled in 1924. Turning at once to the eastern section of the country, where an intensive drive for votes is planned, Mrs. Hert intends to call at an early date a meeting of national committee women from the Atlantic states to map out a program. She is expected in Washington on July 20.

Mrs. Hert represents Kentucky on the national committee and her home is at Louisville. In addition to her political work, she maintains an active connection with several large business enterprises with which her husband, who also was prominent politically, was identified. Since 1924 she has been state chairman for Republican women in Kentucky.

Although finding time for a few callers, Secretary Hoover is busy this week clearing his desk at the commerce department and setting his campaign affairs in order for his scheduled departure for the west on Saturday night.

He is making no pronouncements on campaign issues and plans to make none until he delivers on August 11 his speech accepting the nomination. This policy was revealed when a request for a statement of personal views on the subject of farm relief reached Mr. Hoover's headquarters from W. H. Settle, president of the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation.

Preparations for the eastern campaign are going steadily forward. Representative Tilson of Connecticut has been named to head an eastern speakers' bureau. He will make his headquarters in New York and will work in cooperation with the main speakers' bureau at Chicago.

The meeting of eastern political leaders scheduled for Monday at New York was postponed until July 23, with the explanation that a conference on the earlier date seemed unnecessary.

Patronage Probe Closes in Georgia
Senate Committee Will Go to Washington to Hear Postmaster General New Before Visiting Other States.

Atlanta, July 11 (AP).—With few witnesses remaining to be heard here, the Senate Committee investigating alleged irregularities in administration of post office patronage by the Republican organization in Georgia was ready to transfer its activities temporarily to Washington.

Senator Smith W. Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, said the Georgia hearing would be closed during the day and that the committee next would meet in Washington to hear Postmaster General New before proceeding with hearings in other states where complaints similar to those in Georgia have arisen.

Meanwhile, with Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant U. S. Attorney General, en route to Biloxi, Miss. to ask grand jury investigation of charges in that state, the committee said it would watch the proceedings closely and follow up with its own inquiry soon.

A few postmasters were among the witnesses before the committee yesterday. One postmaster related before the committee that he paid five per cent of his salary to the State Central Committee. Another witness declared he was asked $500 for a reappointment for his wife as postmistress at Ball Ground, Ga.

Miss Esther McCollum, postmistress at Conyers, Ga., told the committee that she was a Republican and believed it her duty to contribute to party funds. She said she had contributed about $100 annually but declared she never had been assessed or solicited.

Roscoe Pickett, chairman of the State Central Committee, on the stand said he knew nothing of any alleged plan for assessments and had not collected or authorized the collection of any funds.

The committee grilled Pickett severely about the card index kept by Martin showing that many postmasters made payment of fixed amounts.

GRANDSON OF RAILROAD BUILDER GETS PROMOTION
Great Falls, Montana, July 11 (AP).—Louis W. Hill, Jr., who started his study of the railroad business as a section hand, has been promoted to trainmaster of the Butte division of the Great Northern Railway, with headquarters here.

Young Hill is a grandson of the late James J. Hill, pioneer western railroad builder. Louis W. Hill, Sr., is chairman of the board of directors of the Great Northern.

Since serving as a section hand, Hill has held positions in various departments. Before coming here he was trainmaster of the Cascade division of the Great Northern in Washington state. He is about 25.

Milk Tests to Make More Work For Laboratory

Health Board Believes It Necessary to Engage Another Bacteriologist and Will Ask County Supervisors to Make Appropriation—Incinerating Plant and Serving Ice Cream Discussed.

Under the new state milk code which went into effect the first of July all milk supplied throughout Ulster county must be subjected to a bacteriological examination and as the city laboratory maintained by the board of health is the only laboratory in Ulster county, it will naturally mean an increase in the work at the laboratory to such an extent that it cannot be handled by the present force employed there, making necessary the employment of another bacteriologist to assist Miss B. Eleanor Easton, who has charge of the city laboratory. That in brief was the report made to the board of health Tuesday evening by Dr. Frederic Holcomb, a member of the board.

Dr. Holcomb said that the laboratory committee of which he was a member had held a meeting recently to discuss the matter and at that time the committee thought it wise to take the matter up with the board of supervisors and ask them to appropriate an amount to cover the additional expense in engaging another bacteriologist.

The report of Dr. Holcomb was accepted by the board and it was decided to get in touch with the board of supervisors and ascertain when a meeting could be held to take up the matter.

Incinerating Plant Discussed.
The question of an incinerating plant to dispose of the city garbage was also discussed, but no action was taken as the board as yet has no figures as to the cost of installing and operating such a plant. The matter has been discussed informally at other meetings of the board.

Serving Ice Cream and Soda.
Another matter brought up was the question of how ice cream should be served in refreshment and soda water stores, and whether the board should make a rule that all ice cream and ice cream soda should be served to customers in paper cups. The matter was discussed informally and undoubtedly will be taken up at a later meeting.

Public Must Not Use Dumps.
Health Officer E. H. Loughran called attention to the action he had taken in prohibiting any one using the city dumps for a general depository of their refuse of animal and vegetable matter which causes a stench which is objected to by those living in the vicinity. Notices are being prepared to post, forbidding anyone except the city trucks from depositing on the dumps. The action taken by the health officer was approved by the board.

Bills and claims were read and referred to the auditing committee of the common council.

The reports of the officers, which were read and filed, will be found elsewhere.

The board then adjourned. Mayor Dempsey presided with Dr. Holcomb, Dr. Fred Huhns and Commissioner Robert Moore in attendance.

MAY DECLARE UPSHAW INELIGIBLE AS CANDIDATE
Atlanta, July 11 (AP).—The announced intention of former Congressman W. D. Upshaw to work for the defeat of Governor Al Smith today had been made the basis of an effort to declare the dry crusader ineligible as a Democratic candidate for Congress from the Fifth District.

In a formal statement last night William Schley Howard, chairman of the Ninth District Democratic executive committee, said he would call a meeting of the committee at the earliest possible moment to consider the question.

"I will insist that the committee declare Mr. Upshaw ineligible as a Democrat under the rules of the state committee," Mr. Howard declared.

Mr. Upshaw recently was qualified to oppose Congressman Leslie R. Steele. His name has been entered in the Democratic primary September.

MORGAN MEETS MARTIN AT EBBETS FIELD TONIGHT
New York, July 11 (AP).—Tod Morgan and Cannonball Eddie Martin will get together for their much-delayed junior bantamweight championship battle at Ebbets Field tonight.

Humbert J. Fugazy, who is promoting the 15-round bout, has postponed the affair three times, twice because of rain and once because the good signor figured July 4 was no time to hold a fight.

SOTTLE MISSED A LOAD OF HAY WHICH DISAPPEARED
Louis Sottle reported to police headquarters Tuesday that a load of hay had disappeared from Yeomans street, near the Immanuel Baptist Church on East Union street. The load had been parked on the street Monday night, and Tuesday when he went after it he found it had disappeared.

Three Members of Lives of 19 Men Italia Crew Found Feared Lost in Polar Exploration

Russian Airman Reported to Have Found Dr. Malmgren and His Two Companions. Referred to as Walking Party.

London, July 11 (AP).—A Reuters dispatch from Moscow states that the three members of the Italia crew trying to reach land about have been found.

The Russian airman found Dr. Malmgren and his two companions at 80.42 north latitude and 25.45 east longitude, which is about 20 miles from the present position of the Krassin. This is west of Cape Platen, Northeast Land. The pilot, this afternoon was searching for a place to make a landing near the party in order to pick them up.

The airman reported that he circled over the men five times. Two of the party energetically waved a flag to him. The third was lying down.

A message was received in Moscow today stating that the Russian flier Chukhnovsky, who has been making flights from the icebreaker Krassin, now near Foin Island, made the discovery in the course of a reconnaissance flight.

The group of three men headed by Dr. Finn Malmgren, Swedish meteorologist, which previously has been referred to as the walking party, had been missing and practically given up for lost ever since May 30, when they left the nine men of the Nobil party, who had been thrown from the ice when the Italia's gondola was smashed on May 23.

With Dr. Malmgren were Captain Alberto Mariano, pilot of the Italia, and Captain Filippo Zappi, Italian navy navigator.

These men stayed five days with the marooned party off Northeast Land and then decided to make an effort to reach land and then to Bay. They carried approximately 50 pounds of provisions, but so far as known had no arms.

The purpose of the group was to reach the Kings Bay base to bring help back to their comrades who were stranded near Foin Island in a tiny encampment centered about a small red tent.

Dr. Malmgren was widely experienced in life in the Arctic because of his previous studies as a meteorologist in that region.

No Fire Bell in City Hall Tower
Bell Destroyed by Fire Not to Be Replaced—City Hall Expected to Be Ready by October 1—Busy Plastering Interior Walls.

When the city hall is completed there will be no fire alarm bell hung in the tower of the building. That has been decided upon by the city authorities. As the tower is rapidly nearing completion many have asked the question if the fire bell was to be rehung in the tower.

It has been found since the city hall fire that the fire alarm service has worked very satisfactorily without a bell in the central part of the city. There are two fire bells that now work, one in the Mill street tower and the other uptown in the Wilkwyck fire station.

The elimination of the bell in the city hall has been of great assistance to the fire department in eliminating a rush of traffic to the scene of a fire when an alarm was turned in. In past years, especially since the automobile has come to stay, the traffic problem has been a serious one, for as soon as the city hall bell tolled a fire alarm every automobile in the vicinity would proceed in the direction of the fire, interfering and impeding the progress of the fire apparatus.

It is for that reason that it has been deemed wiser to not replace the old city hall fire bell.

Work on the reconstruction of the city hall is progressing and as the contract calls for the building being ready for occupancy by the first of October it is expected that it will be ready at that time. The work of plastering the interior walls is now under way. The work on the reconstructed tower is progressing and the new tile roof is being installed on the building.

PAUL RADATZ SUFFERING FROM ATTACK OF LOCKJAW
Paul Radatz of 48 Second avenue, for many years an employee of the New York Telephone Company, is confined to the City of Kingston Hospital with an attack of lockjaw, contracted from an infection received several weeks ago. His condition this morning was reported as serious.

Three Killed in Storm.
Mandan, N. D., July 11 (AP).—Two children were killed in a wind and electrical storm that swept the Standing Rock Reservation. Telephone wires to the reservation were blown down, and reports here of the damage to the storm-swept section were meager.

Elected Successors to Judge Betts.
At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the National Ulster County Bank and Trust Company, Albert E. Rose was elected vice president of that institution and Everett Fowler director, to fill the vacancies caused by the death of Judge James A. Betts.

Those Believed Dead Are Ten Members of Nobille's Party, Amundsen and Two Companions and Crews Which Tried to Rescue Stranded Men—Hope Rests With Ice Breakers.

Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, July 11 (AP).—Indications increased today that a tragedy of modern polar exploration had claimed the lives of nineteen men. Grave fears were entertained for five others.

Those believed dead were: Ten members of General Umberto Nobille's party of 25 which was aboard the Dirigible Italia when it crashed May 25, returning from the North Pole.

Road Amundsen, Lieut. Lief Dietrichsen, Captain Rene Guilbaud and a crew of three of a French seaplane, which tried to find Nobille's party.

The Italian Alpine Chasseur, Captain Sora and two Norwegians, Varming and Vandonen, guides who also started search.

Commander Nobille is the only one of his party rescued. One man was killed in the crash.

Fear was increased for the safety of five fever stricken and partially insane men marooned on the ice by the crash of the airship. There appeared to be no immediate prospect for their rescue. For four days attempts to communicate with them by radio have failed.

This silence today was attributed to either weakness of Radio Operator Giuseppe Biagi or atmospheric conditions. Lieut. Einar-Paul Lundborg, Swedish airman who was rescued from among the marooned men off Foin Island, said that Biagi was weak from fever but managed twice daily to send out radio reports.

Aboard the base ship Citta Di Milano it was asserted that atmospheric conditions prevented short wave radio communication.

Hope Rests With Ice Breakers.
The flog upon which they are drifting was growing soft, preventing planes from landing to take them off. Their hope of rescue appeared to rest upon the ability of the Ice Breakers Krassin and Branganza forcing their way through the pack ice to them. The Krassin reported no progress yesterday being held in the ice about 30 miles away from the survivors.

A dog team expedition of Captain Sora with the Norwegians Varming and Van Dongen started across the ice several weeks ago to rescue the marooned men although warned that such an attempt was fraught with great peril. They were swallowed up by the Arctic.

Lieutenant Lundborg said that on landing on the ice on June 24 he was met by Lieutenant Alfredo Vigliani, now in command of the group and Biagi. With great difficulty they struggled over the ice to the silk tent, which had been painted red to guide rescuers.

Conditions Brief Description.
Bearded and dirty General Umberto Nobille fell into Lundborg's arms in the tent. He wept from mingled joy and distress as he embraced and kissed the Swedish airman. Lundborg said the condition of the tent baffled description. All of the Italians were more or less physically and mentally ill from strain, exposure and lack of proper food.

Lundborg and Lieut. Shyberg, who accompanied him, carried and dragged Nobille to the plane. They took him to Hinnlopen Strait and from there he was transferred to the Citta Di Milano.

Then Lundborg returned to the ice floe alone, hoping to bring out two men in his plane. The skis of his craft cut through the soft snow. The machine turned over and was wrecked. Lundborg was marooned among the men he had hoped to rescue.

Painfully and with great difficulty the five ailing bodied refugees had carried Natale Ceccioni, motor chief whose leg was broken in the crash of the airship, to the place where the plane was expected to land. Apparently they were too weak to carry him back since when the plane was wrecked he was placed on a wing of the machine and left exposed to the rigors of the Arctic until the next day. Then the tent and the entire camp were moved to the plane. The shelter was spread over Ceccioni's couch on the wing of the machine.

Men Despair as Help Fails.
Days of despair followed. Fog prevented airplane rescue parties from either rescuing them or seeing them. Shifting winds loosed the ice around the camp. The rising and falling of the floe added to the misery of the party. The food began to run low and all were placed on short rations.

The ice breaker Krassin, which was expected, failed to appear. The marooned men could see Cape Leigh Smith ten miles away but dared not attempt the perilous journey over the ice to it.

Every day the marooned men received news from the outside world by radio. They were encouraged when they learned small planes were being sent to effect their rescue, since the snow had become too soft to permit heavier machines to land. Lundborg was rescued by Lieutenant Shyberg in a small plane on July 6.

Kingston Soldiers In War Practice At Pine Camp

Under Scorching Sun, Local Artillerymen Engage in Gun Practice While Airplanes Soar Overhead Keeping Touch With Gunners by Radio—Soldiers Highly Praised for Their Work.

Pine Camp, N. J., July 9.—(Special.) Today and Saturday proved the most eventful days in the daily routine of the soldiers since they left Kingston for a two weeks' camping period. Service practice was held today, out of which the Kingston members of the 156th Field Artillery got a big "kick". Saturday general inspection was held and after a rigid test it was found that the Kingston men were living the lives of soldiers in a most ideal manner. The officers of the batteries as well as officials of the National Guard have highly praised the Kingston men for their work at camp. The boys feel highly compensated for their efforts, not alone because of the encouragement given by the officers, but because of the good time they are spending at Pine Camp.

The soldiers left the gun park this morning with their horses and guns in excellent condition after the inspection Saturday. Every detail was looked over by the officers, who did the inspecting of harness, horses and field pieces. The men mounted the teams in a snappy manner when given the command and drove out of the park for the range like veterans of the artillery. The ride was about four miles and covered roads likely to be found in a battle area. It brought back the days of the World War to many of the men who served in France. After riding approximately an hour, interspersed by several stops to rest, men and horses, the artillery arrived at Hogs Back after a hot ride in a scorching sun, the hottest that has shone over the camp this season.

Efficiency Shown in Gun Practice.
 After establishing an observation post on a hill which overlooked the batteries, Major O. R. Hiltbrand soon had his men ready for action with every commanding officer in a position to see that the men properly carried out orders. A portion of the batteries acted as horse-holders and took the animals to safe places on the reservation. The gunners manned their pieces in admirable style and had no trouble in knocking off the targets after receiving directions from Headquarters Battery. Firing was directed by Captain C. M. Behrens. The guns were placed 17 yards apart. The boys were not afraid to ride the guns, which gave a great thrill not alone to those who displayed their ability as soldiers, but to the officers who instructed them. The pieces were fired without delay and reloaded likewise.

The distance between the guns and the targets was about five miles, and instruments recorded that the shots were well placed. A telephone system operated through a switchboard controlled the firing. Orders were sent to the men in command of the gunners by this means and roads in the vicinity of the range were kept clear by the same method. The lines were strung under the supervision of Lieutenant B. V. Roach and cover approximately 17 miles. The reservation was guarded by Kingston men during the firing, among whom were William Duffy and Irving Harmon.

While the French 75 millimeter guns, manned by Kingston men, were destroying the targets, airplanes soared above and assisted in the destruction by an attack from the air. The planes were kept in touch with headquarters by radio. It is expected that Kingston men will be working radio communication service in the very near future.

Meals Served in the Field.
 The sun made the day a rather uncomfortable one for a time. The soldiers consumed their canteens of water in a short time and soon were craving for something to quench their thirst. This added in giving them a touch of what warfare really is. The gunners especially felt the heat. All were glad when mess time came. Meals were brought to the field in six army motor trucks and served to the men who relished their portions. Spaghetti with tomato sauce, bread and ice cold lemonade formed the dinner. The latter item was most sought by the soldiers, who filled their canteens with the refreshing drink for the afternoon manceuvring. The horses were taken care of in the same manner and although they were worked very hard during the heavy shelling were in good condition for the march back to camp. The soldiers were glad to return to their tents for a rest after the day's work and a shower bath. Sackrout and hot franks formed the supper ration.

Inspection Highly Commended.
 The Saturday inspection was one which included every item of the camp. The men were drawn up in formation in the company streets early in the morning and reviewed by the officers of the batteries. They were then taken to the gun parks. The inspecting officers were Major Sparks, senior instructor of the New York State National Guard and a member of the regular army; Colonel Egan, commanding officer of the camp; Major O. R. Hiltbrand of the First Battalion and Captain V. Olsen of the regular army.

Men, horses and field pieces were lined up in the gun park, where the first inspection was made. The result proved to be very satisfactory. In fact it was classed as producing the best results since the 156th Field Artillery has been visiting the camp. Inspecting Sergeants James McCabe and Paul Chesterton of the regular army highly commended the work which the soldiers have been doing at the camp. When the two weeks' camping period ends the Kingston boys will be well seasoned as artillerymen as manifested by the work so far completed.

The picket lines where the horses are kept came in for a strict inspection. The result was most encouraging to the men who have been working at the post. Sergeant John Koska of Kingston, it was said, had the best kept animals in the camp. Cody, the mount trained by him and with which he took first prize in the walking class at Madison Square Garden in 1928, is attracting a great deal of attention at Pine Camp.

The mess shacks and tents at the camp, when inspected, were found to be in first-class order. These especially the former were given very rigid tests. The cooks were well looked over by the officers and the physician, while the ice boxes and dishes were looked over with much pains.

Visit Thousand Islands Sunday.
 Sunday a field Mass was offered on Infirmary Ridge by Captain William P. McKeon, chaplain of the 156th Field Artillery. It was attended by a goodly number of soldiers, while others went to the nearby communities to attend church services. In the morning rides were taken on the horses and during the afternoon many left camp for a sail around the Thousand Islands.

In general the boys are having a good time at Pine Camp. The present outlook forecasts that owing to their pride in their companies they will leave the place in better condition than any regiment which has spent time at the reservation. The daily mails are eagerly waited for by the soldiers and all are glad to hear the news from Kingston. The daily papers from the home town are widely sought and read thoroughly every day. It is suggested that addresses be correctly written on all communications so that they may reach the desired person at Pine Camp.

Describe Faking Accident Claims

New York, July 11 (AP)—An elaborate system of faking accident claims estimated to cost insurance companies $2,000,000 a year was described at an investigation into ambulance chasing before Supreme Court Justice Wansersveld.

Thirteen lawyers and five physicians were named as members of a ring that employed men and women to fake falls over manhole covers and other sidewalk obstructions.

Operation of the alleged ring was described by Daniel Laulich, lawyer's runner who now is serving a prison term for insurance frauds, and

Irving Fuhr, who said he is a truck driver and painter "when not engaged in accident faking". Laulich, who named the lawyers and physicians he said were involved in the accident faking and estimated the amount of the insurance companies' losses, described in detail the method of operation.

One man, the "fopper", he said, would find a defect in a sidewalk of an insured building, trip over it and then make a false claim of injury. The "fopper", he declared, rarely went to a hospital. A second man would gather the names of witnesses to the "accident".

The claim would be placed in the hands of one of the attorneys in the ring, while a physician also affiliated with the ring would furnish a false medical certificate. Suit would then be filed against the insurance company.

Laulich said the ring had arranged with an insurance broker for information on buildings carrying insurance against personal injury and paid $5 each for such tips. He said to draw a salary of $49 a week from the lawyers and a split of the profits, which averaged $50 a week.

DINNER FOR GUEST WHO FAILED TO APPEAR

Lake George, N. Y., July 11 (AP)—A dinner party in honor of a guest who failed to appear was staged here a few nights ago.

The party was in honor of D. J. Fitzgerald, Jr., Hudson River regattaling commissioner. More than 100 of his friends ate the dinner but Mr. Fitzgerald's chair remained empty. He explained later that he had failed to arrive from the Democratic National Convention at Houston in time to attend the function. Most of the leaders of both Republican and Democratic parties in northern New York were present. Fitzgerald is a personal friend of Governor Alfred E. Smith. Democratic nominee for the presidency, and has entertained the Governor and his family on numerous occasions. Addison R. Colvin, former state treasurer, presided at the dinner and displayed a loving cup which was later presented to the absentees.

A "used car" is unused transportation

A GOOD automobile is built to stand years of use; but the average first owner trades it in after only two years.

This means that there are many thousands of miles of unused transportation which may be bought at a low price and enjoyed by the second owner.

While not all the cars that are now being traded-in are relatively new, among them you will find opportunities in cars whose intrinsic value is greater than their selling price—a fact which millions of families have already discovered.

Because of the great volume of new cars sold by General Motors dealers, their stocks of cars taken in trade offer a wide range of used car values. And the GMAC Plan of payments is available for the purchase of used as well as new cars.

Moses Condemns Walker's Warning

New York Mayor's Warning to Motion Picture Producers to Avoid Political Partisanship Reveals Character of Tammany Hall, Mo. Say.

New York, July 11 (P).—The New York Times today quotes Senator Moses of the Hoover advisory council on the northeastern states as characterizing the Hollywood address of Mayor James J. Walker as revealing the "unpleasant character of Tammany Hall."

Mayor Walker in his address had urged motion picture producers to avoid political partisanship or to take the consequences should they "guess wrong."

"The making of threats ordinarily comes much later in the campaign," Senator Moses said, "but Mayor Walker obviously wishes to introduce the methods of October into the month of July. He is evidently attempting to threaten the moving picture industry with the law of the mob, which is of course the inevitable character of Tammany Hall."

"But the mayor should remember and the moving picture men will forget—that the Tammany tiger, however powerful he may be on the banks of the East and North rivers, is not yet installed on the banks of the Potomac."

The senator asserted the moving picture industry is "a well-established and thoroughly legitimate agent of publicity and the Republicans expect to use it legitimately."

Postmasters Will Not Be Removed

Atlanta, July 11 (P).—The purpose of the Senate investigation into alleged irregularities in Republican post office patronage is not to cause removal of postmasters who have contributed money to secure their appointments.

This was stated emphatically by Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa, chairman, at the opening of today's hearing here.

Pool Operators Plead Guilty

New York, July 11 (P).—Matthew F. Dugan, Sam Cohen and J. J. Kelly, all of Albany, today pleaded guilty before Federal Judge Charles C. Cavanah of Idaho, sitting here temporarily, to charges of complicity in the operation of the Albany baseball and stock market pool.

They had been indicted for violating the federal law prohibiting use of the mails for such operations. Sentence will be imposed tomorrow.

United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle said he would recommend jail terms in each case.

RAILROAD BROTHERHOOD INTERNATIONAL OFFICERS

The international officers elected were: President, D. B. Robertson, of Cleveland, Ohio; vice-president, National Legislative Representative Arthur J. Lovell, of Washington, D. C.

A. H. Hawley of Cleveland was elected general secretary and treasurer.

CROATIAN DEPUTIES TALK OF SEPARATE PARLIAMENT

Zagreb, Croatia, July 11 (P).—Croatian deputies are discussing the possibility of establishing a separate parliament at Zagreb, unless King Alexander agrees to dissolve the Skupstina at Belgrade in accordance with the demands of the Croat leaders.

Stefan Raditch, Croatian peasant leader, has summoned all party leaders to Zagreb to discuss this drastic step and to define the Croat attitude toward the present ministerial crisis.

The Croats have been demanding dissolution of parliament ever since the disorders of several weeks ago, when Raditch was wounded and his deputy killed by a government detachment who opened fire on the Croatian deputies.

Little Band-Wagon Journeys

By L. T. MERRILL

7.—Origin of the Two-Thirds Rule

THE two-thirds rule is a party practice as old as the institution of Democratic nominating conventions.

"It was at the first Democratic national convention at Baltimore in 1828 that President Andrew Jackson, then in firm mastery over his party, proposed and secured adoption of the rule 'that two-thirds of the whole number of the votes in the convention shall be necessary to constitute a choice.'"

It was a foregone conclusion that Jackson would run to succeed himself for a second term—though he previously had declared for but a single term; so from his standpoint, the purpose of the Baltimore convention was merely to ratify his choice of Martin Van Buren, his former secretary of state, to be his running-mate.

"Old Hickory's" determination to see this consummation was all the stronger after the senate had rejected his nomination of Van Buren to be United States minister to Great Britain. Jackson was determined to make the senators who had rejected Van Buren sit under him as their presiding officer in the senate by virtue of his election to the vice presidency.

"Old Hickory's" exact reasons for getting the two-thirds rule promulgated in this convention never were thoroughly plain. Probably he wanted to show his power and to "rub in" the fact that the minority in the party could not thwart his will. His purpose was overwhelmingly carried out in the nomination of Van Buren for second place on the Democratic ticket of 1828.

But "Little Van," after having succeeded his patron as President in the election of 1836 and having gone down to defeat before the "singing Whigs" in the "log cabin and hard cider campaign" of 1840, found the two-thirds rule a cruel boomerang that knocked over his chances of nomination in a subsequent Democratic convention.

Van Buren had a clear majority on the first ballot in the Democratic convention of 1844, but it was considerably short of two-thirds, and efforts of his supporters to suspend the two-thirds rule having failed, the nomination went to James K. Polk of Tennessee as the first American dark-horse candidate.

The two-thirds rule had become firmly shackled around the neck of the party, and never since has been stricken off, though discussion of abrogating it is heard in nearly every Presidential election year.

But, for the rule, American history might have been different in several important periods. Thus for example, Champ Clark instead of Woodrow Wilson would have been the nominee in 1912—with all the different possibilities that would have meant for America and the world in the wartime era.

As significant an indirect result of the rule was the temporary wrecking of the Democratic party in 1860. When neither the northern wing of the party, backing Stephen A. Douglas, nor the southern proslavery wing could command two-thirds of the Charleston convention vote, the convention broke up. Two Democratic candidates representing opposing factions were nominated and divided the party vote. Lincoln was elected, and secession came.

But even this experience did not serve to shake the faith of the party in the two-thirds rule. It has been a powerful weapon in the hands of Democratic minorities.

Growth of Stalactites

Due to Evaporation
A stalactite is icicle-like in form, consisting of certain minerals usually deposited by evaporation from a solution that trickles down slowly from above. Stalactites usually occur in some cavity, or cave, and are suspended from the upper part, often forming grotesque and beautiful masses. Most stalactites are formed of carbonated waters. The trickling water evaporates, leaving the minerals which form the icicle-like stalactite. When the carbonated water falls on the floor of the cave a somewhat similar cone-shaped mineral deposit is formed reaching upwards, the reverse of the stalactite, and it is called a stalagmite. The words are derived from the Greek "Stalaktes," dripping.

Sweet Smile Traced

The sweet smile of society usage differs fundamentally from the real smile of pleasure, according to Dr. G. H. Monrad Krohn of the University of Oslo, says Hygeia Magazine. Doctor Krohn discovered, while studying patients with brain injuries, that an entirely different kind of nervous mechanism controls the spontaneous smile than that which controls the voluntary or social smile.

In cases of injury to the motor centers of the brain the patients have difficulty in voluntarily controlling the muscles and nerves of their faces. True emotional movements are unaffected, however, and pleasure brings a smile to the faces of these patients even though they are unable to control their facial movements.

OLD SWORD RECALLS DE SOTO EXPEDITION

Part of Ancient Blade Dug Up in Georgia.

Washington, D. C.—Part of a rusty sword recently dug up in northern Georgia is believed to have been lost by the expedition of Hernando De Soto nearly 400 years ago.

"If this was the origin of the weapon," says a bulletin from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic society, "it is a relic of an expedition that was a tragic mistake from first to last, and the only important accomplishment of which was the discovery of the lower reaches of the Mississippi river."

Had Helped Conquer Peru.
"De Soto had amassed a fortune by his association with Pizarro in the conquest of Peru," continues the bulletin. "He prevailed upon King Charles V of Spain to grant him the right to conquer Florida, and threw his fortune into the enterprise. The whole matter was approached on the basis of the conquest of South America and Mexico. De Soto thought the present southern states of the United States constituted a land of superlatively rich Incas and planned to loot their 'temples' and 'palaces' of gold and precious stones."

"When he had wandered over what is now Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana, killing thousands of Indian agriculturists and hunters, finding only towns of huts and wigwams and losing hundreds of his men and scores of his horses, he came to the realization that there was nothing in the region worth 'conquering.'"

"De Soto's expedition was not the first to reach Florida, but it was the first to go in on a large scale, and the first to penetrate westward through the Gulf states. His best-known predecessor in the peninsula was Ponce de Leon, who searched not for gold, but for the 'fountain of youth.' It was he who gave Florida its name."

"De Soto's party, including foot soldiers, cavalry, and servants, left Havana, Cuba, in May, 1538, and is believed to have landed on what is now Tampa bay. They pushed north through swamps and forests, always harassed by the Indians and spent their first winter near the present town of Pensacola."

"In 1540 they went into the northern part of the present state of Georgia, still fighting and oppressing the Indians and still believing that gold lay just ahead. The wanderings turned westward and southward to the vicinity of Mobile. The following winter was spent in the Yazoo valley, in what is now Mississippi."

"Soon after camp was broken in 1541, the westward-pushing wanderers came upon the 'Great River' as they named it. Paintings have represented this as something of a gala occasion, with De Soto taking possession of the stream in shining armor. In reality it was a ragged, unkempt, rusty crew of discouraged men which found its way blocked by the muddy, drift-strewn waters of the lower Mississippi, somewhere south of the present Tennessee line."

"Barges were built, and the adventurers ferried themselves and their horses into what is now Arkansas. They scouted as far north as the present situation of New Madrid, Missouri, and still finding no gold, turned westward. The next winter was spent in the neighborhood of what is now Joplin, Mo."

"No gold was found in this region, and the party turned south and followed the Red river back toward the Mississippi. They became involved in the swamps and bays of the Red river valley, but finally won their way through to the Mississippi near the mouth of the Red. There they encamped in an Indian town, with the natives rather unwilling hosts, and prepared to build boats."

"But this was to be the end of De Soto's wanderings. He sickened, and within a few days died. His body was buried temporarily, and was then sunk, in the early summer of 1542, in the great river which he had discovered."

"After wandering westward for several months the survivors of De Soto's expedition returned to the Mississippi, built seven brigantines, and floated down the river. They first killed all their horses and dried the meat for provisions. In the frail boats, the last of the party of adventurers entered the Gulf of Mexico, and skirting the present Texas coast, finally arrived at a Spanish settlement in Mexico, near the present port of Tampico."

Exports of Auto Products.

Washington, July 11 (P).—Exports of automotive products from the United States are holding up to new high levels. For May, the commerce department estimated today, the United States shipped abroad automotive goods to a value of $49,921,000, the second highest total ever recorded in a single month. The highest monthly export of automotive goods, $49,954,000 worth, was recorded in March this year.

Paris Divorce Inquiry Closed

Unethical Conduct Charged Against French Attorneys Who Furnished Names of American Law Firms Whom They Represented—Bonuses for Speedy Divorces.

Paris, July 11 (P).—Every American divorce lawyer in Paris, or at least a representative of his firm, has been before the investigating committee in the "American divorce mill" inquiry with all the papers in their cases. All American divorces granted in Paris since January 1, 1926, are regarded as unquestioned in validity.

The investigation has been completed and is not out of the investigating magistrate's hands. All the papers, including his recommendations for sanctions and penalties, have been turned over to the civil tribunal for judgment and the inquiry will not be reopened unless specifically requested by one of the parties of such divorces.

The investigation began some months ago, after a particularly speedy prominent American divorce. "Unethical conduct" was found against certain French attorneys who in turn gave the investigating magistrate the names of the American legal firms employing them, resulting in placing of all American firms handling cases under scrutiny.

The procedure followed by the American firms in divorce cases was to place the facts before some French attorneys—American lawyers are not permitted to plead in French courts—with the statement that the fee would be so much. It is said that the American lawyers' ideas of suitable fees was so much higher than the usual French retainer that the French attorneys became generous with the court attendants. In some cases American firms are reported to have admitted promising a bonus to the French attorneys if a decree were obtained within a certain time.

Dwyer-Falvey Nuptials Here

St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, this city, was the scene of a beautiful wedding this morning at 10 o'clock when Miss Mary M. Falvey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Falvey of 339 Hasbrouck avenue, and James A. Dwyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Dwyer of 70 West Chestnut street were united in marriage with a nuptial Mass by the Very Rev. Joseph B. Scully, V. F., pastor of St. Mary's, who performed the wedding ceremony and celebrated the nuptial Mass. Seated in the chancel at the impressive services were the Rev. John J. Hickey, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, New York city, and formerly of St. Mary's and the Rev. William H. Kennedy, assistant pastor of St. Mary's. The bride was given away by her father, Peter J. Falvey.

The attendants were Miss Gertrude E. Falvey, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and Thomas S. Dwyer, brother of the groom, as best man. The ushers in attendance were John H. Dwyer, William J. Dwyer, William J. O'Reilly and Joseph Rafferty.

The bride was very charmingly gowned in ivory satin, which extended into a train. Her tulle veil was of rose point and the cap being caught with orange blossoms. She carried roses and swansons. The maid of honor looked beautiful in blue georgette with hat to match. She carried pink roses and delphinium.

Mrs. J. William Leary was the soloist during the nuptial, and as the bridal party entered the sanctuary sang "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms." At the offertory she rendered "Pans Angelicus" and at the Communion "Ave Maria" by Gounod. Professor Riccobono played violin selections and Professor Rieser presided at the organ.

Following the church ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, which was prettily decorated with seasonal flowers and foliage. Mrs. Daley catered.

Upon their return from the honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Dwyer will reside in their newly furnished residence at 39 West Chestnut street.

The ceremony was witnessed by a very large gathering as both Mr. and Mrs. Dwyer are very well and favorably known in Kingston. The bride is an accomplished young woman, and for several years taught in Public School No. 5, in this city. She was graduated from New Paltz Normal, Kingston, High School and St. Mary's Parochial School. The groom is one of Kingston's best known young business men, being secretary of Dwyer Bros. Inc., and R. Leachman Co. Mr. Dwyer has been successfully engaged in business since his graduation from Fordham University and Packard Institute, New York city.

NINE RESCUE WORKERS HAMPERED BY ROCK FALL

Pottsville, Pa., July 11 (P).—Seeking to reach three miners entombed by an explosion, rescue workers today were further hampered by a second fall of rock in the Lytle Colliery at Lytle, near here.

Rescue squads had just blasted a huge rock which barred their entrance to breast number 52, where it is believed the men sought safety, when a second fall of rock blocked progress. It was estimated that 500 tons of rock and coal fell.

Yesterday workers found safety lamps and coats of the miners.

Mystery Shrouds Slaying of Four

Edmonton, Ala., July 11 (P).—The slaying of Mrs. Eunice Booher, wife of a prosperous Mannville farmer, her 25 year old son and two hired men today was a complete mystery to police. Vernon Booher, another son, told the police he discovered the bodies Monday night when he hurried to the house on hearing shots shortly after he had left to bring in the cows.

In the dining room, he said, he found the body of his mother, shot from behind, her head split open from the impact of a rifle bullet. In the kitchen was the body of his brother Fred, shot through the mouth and back.

Rushing out to the barn to seek assistance from the hired men, he said he found Bill Rozsack, one of the hands, dead in the barn, a bullet hole in the back of his head. In the bunkhouse was the body of the other, Gabriel Goronby, shot through the mouth.

The husband and father, Henry Booher, was at a farm two miles away at the time of the shooting and the two daughters of the slain woman, Dorothy and Alberta, were at Mannville.

Col. Lindbergh's arrival was a surprise to members of the local air field. He spent the night in North Platte and planned to leave for the west today, his destination being unannounced.

PICKET LINES AT TEXTILE MILLS ARE SMALLER

New Bedford, Mass., July 11 (P).—Activity today in the textile workers' strike here was at its lowest ebb in many weeks, following a night of unceasing picketing of the Kilburn mill that attracted thousands and provided demonstrations that at times threatened to result in disorder.

Picket lines at the 27 mills affected by the strike were smaller than at any time since they opened this week. Heavy rain which fell about the time that the mill gates opened today kept the crowds and number of pickets at very reduced numbers. The Kilburn mill was the lone exception.

It was apparent that the 25,000 strikers were standing fast in their determination not to accept the 10 per cent wage cut which brought on the strike. It is now in the thirteenth week.

Dairy League Increases Prices

NEW YORK, July 11.—As is usual each year, the Dairy League has increased the prices of milk and cream. The increase is about 10 per cent. The league, which is a voluntary association of dairy farmers, has been successful in its efforts to secure higher prices for its members. The increase is expected to be beneficial to the farmers, but it may also result in higher prices for consumers. The league has also been successful in securing a quota for its members, which will help to stabilize the market. The increase is expected to be in effect from July 15th.

"Love is blind but the neighbors are not."

"What is your occupation?" asked the judge sternly.

"I haven't any," replied the man.

"I just circulate about."

"Please, note," said the judge, turning to the court clerk, "that this gentleman is retired from circulation for thirty days."

High-Hatting.

The one individual, male or female who does most to give mankind a pain in the neck is the high-hatter.

Some people high-hat everybody, and nearly everybody high-hats somebody; but anybody who high-hats anybody is disliked by everybody.

The advice to high-hatters is brief. Don't.

You may be better looking than other people, or you may have a little better education, or you may have a little more money, or you may have a little bigger reputation, but whoever you are and whatever you are, if you are a high-hatter you're an ass.

You can't possibly be above everybody; it isn't probable that you are above 10 per cent of the people. And if there are others more important than you, what right have you to swell up?

Get that stuff out of your neck and be decently humble. People will like you better.

Few popular songs ever remain that way long.

Bragging does not bring happiness, but man with a large fish goes home through an alley.

Doctor—Your father seems hale and hearty at the age of 104.

Mountaineer—Yep, but pap's slipshod! Terrible. To other day I heard him say he reckoned he'd better take up the game of golf.

A woman, generally speaking, is generally speaking.

One night when her mother reminded her it was bedtime, she said: "It isn't fair. At night you tell me I'm too little to stay up, and in the morning you say I'm too big to stay in bed."

It might help some if they'd change the motto on the American dollar from "In God We Trust" to "Abide With Me."

A farmer knows a lot more about what we need than a golf player does about any such economical thing.

Movie Hero—"The lights have burned out, are you afraid?"

Pretty Extra—"Not if you take that cigarette out of your mouth."

If your wife is dieting it is cruelty to bring home a five-pound box of candy.

You probably noticed that when President Coolidge finally praised a Democrat he picked out a dead one—Andy Jackson.

Sweet Young Thing—"If you men would just quit looking at us girls in short skirts, we would quit wearing them."

"Yes, I suppose you would have to do something drastic."

Well, let New York extend the welcome. No other town has enough scrap paper.

AUNTY KNOCK (nickname for TYDOL ETHYL) brings peace and quiet to the noisiest brood of cylinders that ever pinged and pounded. It turns irritable engines into peaches-and-cream performance.

And TYDOL ETHYL does more than iron out the knocks. It increases the power... gives faster starting, quicker pick-up, lessened gear-shifting and more mileage. And it turns carbon from a power-waster into a power-maker.

You don't know the half of motoring pleasure until you've added TYDOL ETHYL wings to your car... Let Aunty Knock ride with you!

STATE OBTAINED MORE JOBS IN MAY

Albany, N. Y., July 11 (AP).—State employment offices scattered throughout the state reported to the New York State Labor Department that they obtained more jobs for applicants during May than in any month so far this year. This was ascribed to the number of "odd jobs" available.

The recent opening of a cigar factory in Binghamton resulted in places for scores of applicants. A decrease in the number of farm jobs applied for and supplied was noted, now that the season is well under way.

During the month, 179 professional and technical workers sought work, compared with 379 during the previous month. Twenty found jobs compared with 16 in April. Buffalo reported the greatest number of jobs available for applicants. Elmira, Syracuse, Binghamton and Albany found more places for those who registered than the offices in New York city, Dunkirk and Rochester.

In Albany, Buffalo, Rochester and New York city, there was an increased demand for girl workers, while the number of boys who obtained jobs was about the same as in April. An increase in the number of common laborers required was noted.

AUTO SMOKE SCREEN FAILED TO STOP TROOPERS

Keseeville, N. Y., July 11 (AP).—Military tactics were employed by two women and a man in an attempt to escape from State Troopers near here.

When the Troopers began pursuing an automobile driven by one of the women, she opened an attachment on the exhaust pipe and laid down a smoke screen which effectively concealed the car. The Troopers continued the pursuit for 10 miles, however, and won out when the car crashed in a ditch. Arraigned before United States Commissioner H. W. Thomas here, they gave their names as Pearl Seavie and Edna Getchell, both 20 years old, of New York city, and Harry Stewart, of North Hudson. Seventeen cases of alleged whiskey were found in the car and the trio was held in the Essex county jail in default of $2,000 bail each, pending further hearing.

Regeneration of Matter

In many of the lower forms of animals a phenomenon known as regeneration takes place. If the hydra, lobster, crab, earthworm and other animals lose a limb or a part of the body, they grow new organs to replace those lost.

Rub-a-dub-dub,
Dolly's clothes in a tub,
And why do you think they be?
'Cause Molly or Polly

Must look nice for company.

For dolls, like their mother,
Should never be other
Than fresh and as neat as a pin.
And even a rabbit
Should form that wise habit,
For callers will often drop in.

LOVE LAUGHS AT LOCKSMITHS AND LAWS

Ballston Spa, N. Y., July 11 (AP).—Love laughs at locksmiths—and U. S. immigration laws.

John Wilson McLachlan, of this village, and his bride of a few days may be kept apart, one in this country and the other in Canada, by immigration laws, but they are married none the less.

John McLachlan and Mabel Turner were sweethearts in Scotland. John came to this country and later Miss Turner emigrated to Canada but found she could not enter the United States because the immigration quota for Scotland was filled.

She came across the line on a visit last week and married McLachlan, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Clement G. Martin, pastor of the Presbyterian Church here. Then she returned to Canada to wait until a vacancy in the Scotch immigration quota occurs.

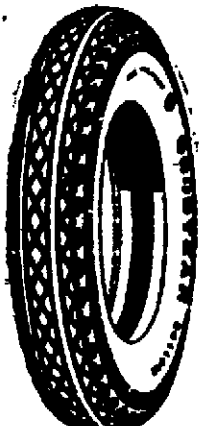

Mill Worker Hurt Second Time.

Corinth, N. Y., July 11 (AP).—Still carrying his arm in a sling after breaking it in an accident in a paper mill a few weeks ago, S. E. Lincoln, of this village, has been injured again. He was riding in an automobile driven by Mrs. H. R. Kathan, when the machine crashed into the porch of a house, throwing him against the windshield. Lincoln was badly cut on the left side of his face.

Nothing Amazing about this Battery Principle

Yet engineers agree that BATTERY BALANCE is the one all-important reason for battery dependability.
Every car owner will instantly appreciate why a really reliable battery must be based on this simple common-sense principle.

A SURPRISINGLY simple principle is Battery Balance. There's nothing amazing or hard to understand about it. Yet it is so absolutely basic that engineers everywhere agree that it is all-important in battery construction.

This evenness of construction is Battery Balance. You can see for yourself the sound common sense behind it. And when you realize that the Exide Battery has perfect Balance, you can understand why an Exide gives such long and reliable service.

What Battery Balance is
Battery Balance is based on the recognized fact that every part of a storage battery is equally important.

The same scientific accuracy marks the construction of every part of the Balanced Exide.

To insure long and dependable service, every part of a battery must be designed right and built right at the very start. And every part must do exactly the right proportion of work so that no extra load will be thrown on any of the others.

Exide BATTERIES

When you purchase an Exide Battery, you purchase a battery that is not only built as a unit but also operates as a unit.

Exide Batteries are priced at $9.75 and up

Siphoned Liquor From Warehouse

New York, July 11 (AP).—A man described by government authorities as "one of the biggest in the liquor game" was being sought today in connection with the siphoning of $1,000,000 worth of government whiskey and alcohol from a warehouse in lower Manhattan.

Robert R. Watts, assistant United States attorney, said confessions had been obtained from three of the six men under arrest as conspirators in the warehouse thefts. He said the man sought as their leader was well known in sporting circles.

The liquor was siphoned through a window from the government barrels into barrels on trucks in an adjoining yard. Only from one to ten gallons were taken from a barrel and this was sometimes replaced with water. It was estimated that from 50,000 to 100,000 gallons had been stolen. The warehouse was operated by the Cosmopolitan Warehouse Corporation.

Hay Fever

Home Treatment

If you want a really effective treatment for Hay or Rose Fever go right to McBride's Drug Stores and ask for a bottle of Opex.

Spray the nostrils two or three times a day—often if necessary. You'll be surprised and delighted—not only will Opex soothe and heal the raw inflamed membrane, but it will promptly stop the humiliating discharge. If it fails, get your money back.

The price is but $1.00 and McBride's Drug Stores will gladly tell you all about it.

No More Gas In Stomach and Bowels

If you wish to be permanently relieved of gas in stomach and bowels, take Basman's Gas Tablets, which are prepared especially for stomach gas and all the bad gas resulting from gas pressure.

That empty, gnawing feeling at the pit of the stomach will disappear; that anxious, nervous feeling with heart palpitation will vanish, and you will again be able to take a deep breath without discomfort.

That drowsy, sleepy feeling after dinner will be replaced by a desire for entertainment and "go to sleep" because Basman's Gas Tablets prevent gas from interfering with circulation. Get the genuine, in the yellow package, at any good drug store.

U. & D.-Schillings Take Close Game

The U. & D.-Schillings took a firm hold on first place in the Industrial League when they posed out the Athletics, 3-1, in one of the best played games of the season, at the Athletic Field Tuesday evening. Walter Schillings gave the Kingston boys a win.

Robinson, who beat the All-Stars in Flischmann's a week ago, was on the mound for the mountain club. He was hit very hard, the local batsmen pounding him for twenty safe hits.

The combination team backed up Black in errorless style, while Spader's teammates were guilty of three costly errors. Black allowed four hits and Spader five.

Johnny Snyder, the Athletics' third baseman, sparked on the defense. Out of seven hard chances he made one error, a wild throw to first base.

After the Athletics were set down in order in the first inning, Hornbeck, lead-off man for the combination team, was safely perched on first base when Snyder made a bad throw to Gilday. He stole second and scored on Black's single. Two walks and a single put the Athletics on even terms in the second inning.

Neither team could score until the sixth inning. Then Connelly was hit by a pitched ball and advanced to third on Smedes's two-bagger. He called on Gilday's error at first base. Smedes brought in the final run when Spader let Kennedy's grounder go by for a single.

U. & D.-Schillings All-Stars Beat Margaretville

Saturday afternoon the All-Stars took the Margaretville Ball Club over in a ten inning battle, 12-10, on the mountain diamond. Bill Schwab's double with two on in the tenth inning gave the Kingston boys a win.

Robinson, who beat the All-Stars in Flischmann's a week ago, was on the mound for the mountain club. He was hit very hard, the local batsmen pounding him for twenty safe hits.

The Kingston Club had Randy Winston doing the twirling and he made a good job of it by holding the hard hitting mountain club to ten hits. After the seventh inning, the Margaretville boys could not touch him. Winston's teammates made five misplays and every one helped in run scoring.

Cy Connors, well known baseball player, was with the All-Stars Saturday and will stay with them as coach. Cy knows baseball and with him the Kingston Club showed big improvement.

In the first inning the locals went after Robinson. Moore singled, Sickler doubled Schwab, Cragan, Glaser and Smedes all doubled sending five runs over the rubber.

Margaretville got six runs in their half of the first inning when the Kingston Club had four errors together with two singles and a triple.

The All-Stars scored one run in the fourth, fifth and sixth and two in the seventh. In their half of the seventh they scored four runs tying the score 10-10. Margaretville did not get another man to first for the rest of the game. In the tenth Quinn singled, Sickler singled, Bill Schwab saved the day with a double, scoring both men. Next three men went out.

DAVE SHADE WILL MEET WALKER OR HUDKINS

Chicago, July 11 (AP).—Dave Shade, California middleweight contender for Micky Walker's world's championship, is willing to post $5,000 to back his statement that he is ready for a chance at the titleholder.

Shade today said he was ready and willing to meet either Walker or Ace Hudkins, the Nebraska wildcat, and had $5,000 waiting to guarantee his willingness to meet either of the middleweights, preferably Walker.

"I would rather meet Walker," Shade said, "but if the boxing commission should decide I should meet Hudkins first, I am willing. I'll fight either at any time for any promoter."

Shade scored his sixth consecutive victory in Chicago Monday night when he knocked out Bert Colima in the 7th round of their scheduled 10-rounder.

WALKER MUST MEET MIDDLEWEIGHT IN CHICAGO

Chicago, July 11 (AP).—Micky Walker, world's middleweight boxing champion, will not be permitted to fight in Chicago or Illinois again unless his opponent is a recognized middleweight challenger approved by the state boxing commission, the commission has announced.

No definite reason was given for the ruling but it came on the heels of Dave Shade's knockout of Bert Colima last night and some fight experts said it appeared the commission might be planning to give Shade a shot at Micky's title here in case Micky wanted to fight in Chicago.

Tagging Major League Bases

(By Herbert W. Barker, Associated Press Sports Writer.)

The west, with its many pitfalls for the unwary, has no booster for John McGraw, the "master-minding" pilot of the New York Giants.

After taking three straight on the chin at Pittsburgh, the Giants moved into the even more dangerous territory of St. Louis yesterday and encountered a storm of home runs that gave the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals an easy 5 to 1 victory.

The defeat dropped the Giants into third place, Cincinnati moving up into the runner-up position by its 12 to 4 defeat of the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Reds, making a gallant comeback after a slump that sank them into the second division for a time, no more four and a half games back of the Cardinals, with the Giants another full game to the rear.

Joe Genewich pitched pretty good ball for McGraw until the sixth inning. Andy High's home run in the fourth being the only Cardinal score. The Giants tied it up in their half of the sixth and then the storm broke. High hit a second homer. A walk to Jim Bottomley and circuit drives by Chick Hafey and George Harper ended the four-run rally. Clarence Mitchell, aged southpaw, exerted his usual spell over the Giants, giving up only five hits.

The Reds pounded three Dodger hurlers for 15 hits in their seventh successive triumph at Cincinnati. Pete Donohue held a tight rein on the Dodger sluggers until the late innings when the Reds had piled up a long lead. Lou George Kelly was the batting star of the day with four out of five.

Hartnett's single with the bases loaded in the ninth gave the Chicago Cubs a 7 to 6 decision over the Boston Braves in a wild battle at Wrigley Field. Rogers Hornsby's sixteenth homer of the season had given the Braves a tie in the first half of the last frame. Kent Greenfield had put the Cubs far out in front in the fifth inning when he walked five men. This generosity with a triple, double and single accounted for six runs.

The Waner boys drove in the tying and winning runs in the Pittsburgh Pirates' 5 to 3 victory over the Phillies. The Phils took a one-run lead in their half of the ninth but singles by "Little and Big Poison" enabled the Corsairs to register their fourth straight win—the second time this year they've put together a streak of that length.

The Washington Senators moved up to a tie for fourth place in the American League by beating the Cleveland Indians in both ends of a double-header, 9 to 5 and 9 to 0. The nightcap was something of a freak for the Indians got no fewer than 14 hits off Milt Gaston, yet could not score a run.

Lou Blue and Frank O'Rourke led the St. Louis Browns to a 4 to 2 triumph over the Boston Red Sox in the opening game of the series. O'Rourke drove in three runs and scored the fourth on a double steal. Blue got three hits, one a triple and scored two runs.

Indians Won't Sing

Night Song During Day
The Indians of India and the Indians of the United States have much in common in their music, says Joseph Stokowski, conductor of the Philadelphia orchestra. Mr. Stokowski recently returned to the Western world after six months in the Orient and the Near East.

"Last year," Mr. Stokowski said, "I made my first trip into the American West, studied the Indians and their music and dances and talked to as many of them as possible. In the last winter I did the same, avoiding white men in order to be with the natives and try to understand them and learn from them."

"The music of the American red man and the Hindu are both affected greatly by the position of the sun. They have songs for the sunrise, for the afternoon, for twilight and for nighttime, and it is impossible to get them to sing a sunrise song in the afternoon. I remember having heard a beautiful song near Tucson, N. M., one night, and the next day I asked the Indian singer to repeat it for me."

"Not now," he said, "that was moon music."
"And in India a Hindu whom I asked to repeat a melody I had heard at dawn told me he wouldn't sing it at the time I asked, explaining that it was 'sunrise music.'"

Bogota Plans Better

Homes for Workers

Bogota, Colombia.—Adobe hut dwellers on the fringes of Bogota are anticipating better and more sanitary homes equally as cheap as those they now occupy.

A workmen's ward, centrally located, is the objective of the municipal cheap habitations commission, which is now negotiating a $500,000 loan to finance the project, the first of its kind in Bogota.

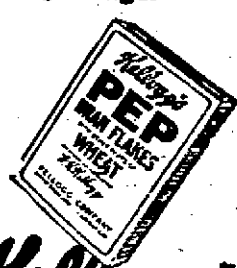

As a beginning 500 or 600 small model houses to cost not more than $4,000 each would be constructed. The commission believes the establishment of such a ward would not only meet the housing requirements of the poor but centralize the work of the health authorities in their fight against disease and infant mortality.

SEEK HISTORY
DATA IN SOUTHHouse-to-house Canvass to
Be Made in Search of Old Documents.

Washington.—Plans for collecting millions of old letters, diaries, statistical and other original documents calculated to shed light on southern history were outlined here by Dr. Joseph Gregoire de Rouillac Hamilton, professor of history at the University of North Carolina, speaking under the auspices of the local chapter of the alumnae of that state's college for women.

The collection has been started on a small scale, but it is to be broadened now that preparations have been made to provide a fireproof structure for the State university at Chapel Hill, N. C., in which to preserve the data.

Doctor Hamilton said that the material would be available to historians or other research workers interested in learning actual social, economic and other basic conditions connected with the settlement and development of the South.

The plans contemplate a collection throwing light upon the past and present of the states of Maryland, Virginia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri and Texas.

To Ransack Through Garrets.
Material will be sought not only in old garrets, closets, trunks and cellars in those states but from Southerners who have moved elsewhere and who have such letters and documents.

Where material is given by or concerning those now living it will be sealed and not thrown open to inspection until such time as may be designated by the donors.

Doctor Hamilton emphasized the urgent need of rescuing such papers now from the danger of fire, rats and other causes of destruction.

In recent months Doctor Hamilton has rummaged in several attics in North Carolina for letters which the owners thought useless. Some of the communications found are considerably more than 100 years old. In many instances he discovered that letters had been burned to get them out of the way.

At one farmhouse he ran across a batch of love letters written in the early '80s, which the owner said would be of no interest to anyone. Picking up one letter at random, Doctor Hamilton discovered that it was from a young man who had gone to Tennessee and later to Mississippi. It gave a minute description of the country and social conditions when he arrived.

Southern Diaries Found.
At Fayetteville, N. C., Doctor Hamilton saw a box of yellowed documents, some of them relating to business matters of a century and a half ago. Again he was told that there was nothing of importance in the collection. He picked up another letter at random. It was from a pioneer seeking information about a water wheel desired for his plantation.

That communication was a valuable sidelight, Doctor Hamilton said, on an economic condition respecting farm machinery prevailing at the time, and would prove of great value in constructing the true story of early efforts to improve production.

He said that he had discovered that many Southerners, from the earliest days, kept diaries after the fashion of New Englanders and that these contained pictures of living conditions not yet clearly depicted to history. One diary he found ran from 1866 to 1918.

He added that Southerners generally had been more careless than New Englanders or Westerners in keeping their old records and that not until recent years had attempts been made to gather and preserve them for their value in studying both southern and national history.

Calls Situation Unfortunate.
"The whole situation," he said, "is unfortunate. The time is ripe to remedy it so far as possible by the establishment of a great library of southern historical material, or to express it, perhaps, more accurately, of southern human records."

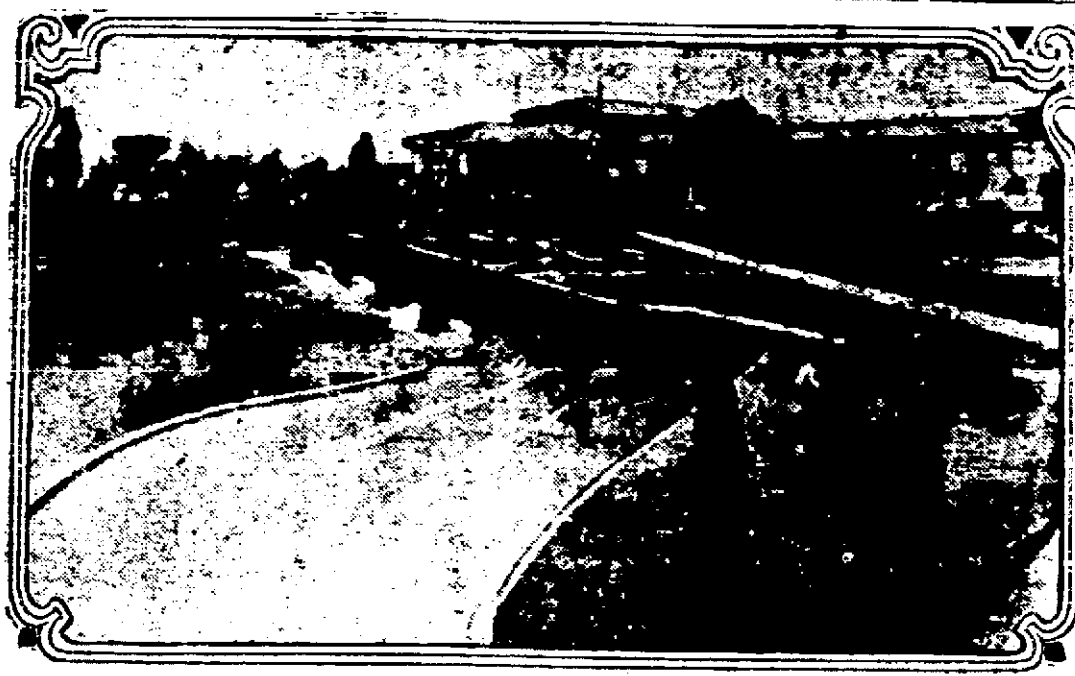

"With the completion of plans for its new and permanent library building, authorized by the last legislature, the University of North Carolina, in pursuance of a plan it has contemplated for many years, is now undertaking the establishment of such a collection and beginning active prosecution of that work."

The North Carolina material already includes 40,000 bound volumes and pamphlets. These relate also to early affairs in Virginia, South Carolina, Tennessee and Georgia. In addition, there are many newspaper clippings that have been classified. As new material is received it will be filed and catalogued and made readily accessible to the historian student.

"The southern collection, as planned," said Doctor Hamilton, "will include, so far as possible today, every book or pamphlet of any kind on any subject written in the South or by a Southerner, every one which deals in any way with the southern states, their people or their problems."

Many Kinds of Material.
"It will contain state publications of every sort, general historical works, monographs, biographies, town, county and other local histories, genealogical works, essays, poetry, fiction, sermons, files of periodicals, statistics, maps, broadsides, the catalogues, minutes, proceedings and reports of educational bodies and institutions, fraternal orders, commercial, professional, philanthropic, religious, social, patriotic and scientific organizations, as complete files of southern newspapers as can be secured and files of papers from other sections which carry southern material.

One view from the entrance, State Fair Grounds, showing beautiful parkway system with Dairy Building in background. Many new features are planned this year for the Dairy Show which promises to be thoroughly representative of the State's dairy interest.

"Nor will it be confined to printed material. It will include great masses of manuscript material, such as diaries, unpublished reminiscences or other autobiographical writings, letters of every description, plantation records, and the ledgers and other records of industrial and business undertakings."

"It will contain not only papers and letters of prominent individuals and families, but all kinds of records which reveal the life and thought of the masses of the people."

Doctor Hamilton said that this material would show hitherto unknown facts in economical, social, religious, scientific and political fields. He predicted that the South within fifty years would be the scene of a "tremendous economic and social development" and that the matter to be gathered would enable it in the immediate future to "wisely chart its course."

The plans contemplate sending investigators through several states on a house-to-house canvass to collect all available documents up to at least as late a period as 1880 or 1885.

AIRPLANE SERVES AS AN AMBULANCE.
Canton, Ohio, July 11 (AP)—An airplane served as an ambulance when George E. Frost and his wife left Minerva near here, for Rochester, N. Y., today.
Two years ago Frost was injured in a railroad accident. Since then he has been unable to travel by automobile or train.
Treatment in a Rochester hospital was advised and the Frosts engaged A. C. Bell, Alliance airplane pilot, to make the trip. The cockpit of the plane was arranged to accommodate Frost's litter and an air mattress.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 11 (AP)—Stiffening money rates brought about another sharp reaction in the stock market today. An opening decline of 1 to 1 1/2 points was followed by a rally when the call money renewal rate was unchanged at 6 per cent. The subsequent calling of $29,000,000 in bank loans, accompanied by a tightening of time money and bankers' acceptances, brought about another sinking spell after mid-day. Heavy liquidation took place on the theory that other Federal reserve centers will follow the lead of Chicago in marking up the rediscount rates to 5 per cent, and that there is little hope of easy money before fall, if then. Trade news was largely favorable. Weekly steel trade reviews emphasized the fact that the seasonal decline in output had been smaller than usual, production last month being the largest for any June in the last ten years.
Call money advanced to 7 per cent after mid-day.
High priced specialties were the hardest hit by the selling movement. Case Threshing, which has been inactive all week, sold nearly 18 points below the previous sale. Wright Aeronautical broke 3 points. American Machine & Foundry 1/2. DuPont 7 1/2. Hadin and Johns-Manville 5 1/2 each and Green Cananea Copper, General Motors, Curtiss, General Electric and Montgomery Ward sold down 4 to 6 points.
There were a few exceptions to the downward trend. Kennecott Copper standing out with a 2 point gain, while Chisholm cotton oil moved into new high ground. New low prices for the year or longer were recorded by American Woolen common and preferred, Pan American Western and Western Union.
Rails yielded with the Industrials. Texas & Pacific, Washburn, New York Central and Chesapeake & Ohio sold 3 to 5 points lower.

Stock Prices React to Raise

New York, July 11 (AP)—Swift reaction in stock prices was Wall Street's initial response to the raising of the Chicago Federal discount rate from 4 1/2 to 5 per cent. Large selling orders came into the market overnight, and carried prices down $1 to $7.50 a share.
The reaction was an orderly one and individual transactions, as a rule, were not large, few blocks of more than 2,000 shares changing hands.
General Motors, which showed individual strength in yesterday's declining market, opened with a block of 4,350 shares at the "spread" price of $153 to $154 a share, an extreme loss of $8.50. DuPont was carried down $7.50 a share, Wright Aero $4, Johns-Manville $5.50 and General Electric, Radio, Curtiss, Houston Oil, Allied Chemical and American International reacted $3 to $5 a share in the first outbreak of selling.
Buying support was quickly forthcoming for some of the recent favorites. General Motors rallying nearly $4 from the low, while recoveries of $1 to $2.50 a share took place in other active issues. Trading slowed down on the rally.

Cloudburst Over Kingston Today

After sweltering in the grip of an intense heat wave during the early hours of the day a miniature cloudburst broke over the city, flooding streets and walks. The rain was accompanied by a severe electrical storm. During the height of the storm there were sawflakes mingled with the rain.
Lower Broadway was a raging torrent as water poured down the street. Broadway hill as the sewer was unable to carry off the water as fast as it fell.
In the memory of the oldest inhabitant such a heavy downpour of rain could not be recollected, and no one remembered ever seeing such a raging torrent flowing down the Broadway hill through the Strand and Ferry street.

ODD THINGS IN AUSTRALIA

"Laughing Jackasses" of Australia.

(Prepared by the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.)
AUSTRALIA, possessor of so many features unfamiliar to the rest of the world, might be catalogued by a nature lover by her trees and her birds. One readily understands why the Australian loves his trees. The groves of giant eucalyptus form pictures never forgotten, and the scent of the wattle brings a homesick feeling like the smell of the sage to a Westerner.
The flora is not only beautiful, it is unique, without counterpart in other lands. Of the 10,000 species of plants most of them are purely Australian, and are unknown even in New Zealand. The general impression one gets of Australian forests is their total unfamiliarity to anything seen elsewhere. The great forests of timber trees are not damp and shaded and all of one species, but are well lighted and filled with other forests of shorter trees; in places the woods consist of large widely spaced trees surrounded only by bunch grass, and even in areas where water is not to be found on the surface for hundreds of square miles true forests of low trees are present.
Forms which may be recognized as tulip, lily, honeysuckle and fern take on a surprising aspect. They are not garden flowers, but trees, and the landscape of which they form a part reminds one of the hypothetical representations in books of science of a landscape of Mesozoic time, a period antedating our own by millions of years.
The trees are indeed those of a bygone age. In America and Europe shadowy forms of fossil leaves of strange plant species are gathered from the rock and studied with interest; in Australia many of these ancient trees are living. The impression that one is looking at a landscape which has forever disappeared from other parts of the world is so vivid that the elms and maples and oaks in some of the city streets strike a jarring note. The transition from Jurassic to modern times is painfully abrupt.
With a flora of such great interest, it occasions no surprise to find that Australia is the home of many eminent botanists, and that geologic history is a common subject of study in schools.
Eucalyptus the National Tree.
Australia is the home of the wonderful eucalyptus, a tree about which a fair-sized library of books and pamphlets has been written, without exhausting the subject. For geologic ages the eucalyptus have remained undisturbed in this "biological backwater," and, spreading over the continent, have adapted themselves to many varieties of soil and climate and elevation. About 300 species have already been discovered in the small part of the continent explored by botanists.
It is a hopeless task for the tourist to gain an acquaintance with this national tree. As he passes through woods and open spaces, seeing trees of widely different aspect—different in form and method of branching, different in color and kind of bark, different in shape and size and color of leaf, some oozing gum, others clean and dry—it is disconcerting to be quietly told by his botanist-guide that this surprising array of trees "includes only varieties of the genus eucalyptus."
The Australian is likewise embarrassed by these prolific variations of eucalyptus. The trees in general are "gums"—white gums, red gums, blue gums, spotted gums, cabbage gums, or ironbark, stringy bark, woolly bark, smooth bark; and when distinctions are necessary we get such combinations as narrow-leaved-red-ironbark, or broad-leaved-yellow-stringy-bark.
Giant That Grows Rapidly.
The eucalyptus include some of the tallest trees in the world. The Victorian forests department records trees which measure 323, 333 and 342 feet, and states that there are "scores of trees about 300 feet in height." The surveyor of the Pandemonium ranges made notes of the tallest trees felled during an eight-year period and reports that "all those measured were over 300 feet in length."

Eucalyptus trees reproduce themselves readily and grow about seven times more rapidly than oak or hickory. From a ton of bark of the gum tree was obtained by analysis 10 pounds of tannin extract and 208 pounds of oxalic acid. From the gum and leaves of these trees come also the highly valuable eucalyptus oils from which no less than twenty-seven constituents have been distilled for pharmaceutical purposes and for the separation of metals by the flotation process.
The eucalyptus is the great timber tree of the continent. Of sixty varieties in Victoria, twenty have high commercial value and are finding an ever-increasing market. The Tasmanian blue gum is one of the strongest, densest, and most durable woods in the world. Timbers 2 feet square, exceeding 100 feet in length, are readily obtained, and when used for piling, need not be weighted, for the density of the wood is such that it sinks in water. Their strength is twice that of English oak, and they are practically immune from attack by the teredo, which plays such havoc with ordinary timbers.
The jarrah, a eucalyptus of west Australia, is another famous tree. It is one of the few woods of the world which successfully resist the ravages of white ants; it is practically immune from the attacks of marine borers, and, like the iron-bark of Victoria and New South Wales, has been known to withstand fire better than iron girders.
Many Beautiful Birds.
Australia is stocked with beautiful birds, many of them of unusual aspect. The man who originated the popular saying that "Australian birds have plumage, but no song," must have lived in a sound-proof box. Among the 775 species are included some of the most brilliantly colored, sweetest voiced and most unusual birds in the world.
Along the northeast coast is the bower bird, which adorns its nest and decorates its playing ground, with shells, seeds, and other bright objects, not despoiling brass buttons and cartridge cases.
The lyre bird, famous for its plumage, is the rival of the mockingbird of the South in sweetness of tone, and skill as a mimic. The crow-shrike ("magpies"), the brown flycatcher ("jacky winter"), the bush warbler, the rock warbler, the reed warbler, the bush lark, the cuckoo, the honey eaters, and the "willy wagtail," constitute parts of a bird chorus difficult to surpass. Cockatoos are as common in Australia as crows in the Central West; even in the desert flocks are frequently seen. Some of them are excellent talkers, most of them gorgeously dressed.
A most surprising bird is the kooboorra, or laughing jackass. All at once in the quiet bush come loud peals of uproarious, mocking laughter. One is not inclined to join in the merriment—it all seems as foolish and weird as if an idiot boy were disturbing a congregation in church. When the source of the laughter is located it turns out to be a silly-looking bird with clumsy, square body and open mouth, sitting unconcerned on a stump.
The ibis occurs by thousands, and the gigantic black-necked stork, or jabiru, standing 5 feet high, inhabits the swamps of the northern coast, while the graceful black swan frequents the estuaries and lakes. The mallee hen and the brush turkey build mounds of sticks, leaves, and earth 3 to 10 feet high. The eggs are laid in burrows excavated in the mound and are left to be hatched by the heat resulting from decomposing vegetable matter—a homemade community incubator.
The casowary of the forests of Queensland and Papua and the emu, which is found throughout the continent, are unknown outside the Australian region. The emu is the national bird and shares with the kangaroo the task of upholding the shield on the commonwealth coat of arms. It is a powerful bird and can run at the rate of 15 to 20 miles an hour.

Raskob Will Direct Campaign

New York, July 11 (AP)—John J. Raskob, chairman of the finance committee of General Motors, today was named chairman of the Democratic national campaign.
Prior to a meeting here of the Democratic National committee, set for this afternoon, the presidential committee declined to discuss reports that Raskob, a close personal friend, would be named chairman, and in this capacity would manage the campaign. Intimates of the Governor, however, declared he had determined on Raskob and that his preference would be disclosed to the committee.
With Mr. Raskob's expected appointment was linked the name of Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, former governor of Wyoming, for the now vacant post of vice-chairman of the National committee. The slate also included Colonel Herbert H. Lehman, New York banker, as campaign director of finance.
The general expectation had been that Senator Gerry of Rhode Island was Smith's preference for committee chairman and his reported switch to Raskob was interpreted as a concession on his part to the advice of friends and political leaders that it would be best to have a man widely known in the business world at the campaign helm.
Raskob, who lives in New York state and has a summer residence in Maryland, has been an intimate of the Democratic presidential nominee for years.
Declines to Discuss Plans.
Adhering to his policy of not disclosing his political plans until after today's committee meeting, Governor Smith, at a conference with newspapermen, not only declined to discuss the campaign organization but refused to say when he would be officially notified of his nomination. He predicted, however, that the committee would be named today to consult both Senator Robinson of Arkansas, his running mate, and him as to their wishes.
The governor, who came to the city last night by motor from Albany, had a general talk on the political situation after his arrival with Senator Robinson and Franklin D. Roosevelt, who placed him in nomination at Houston. This morning he had as his breakfast guest Senator Reed of Missouri, whom he had invited here to discuss the political outlook.
Both Smith and Reed declared later that their conversation had been general and that nothing definite was discussed as to the part the Missouri Senator will play in the campaign.
Talk With Smith Was Pleasant.
Reed, in conversation later with reporters, said his talk with the nominee had been "pleasant" and had not touched on any particular subject. He added that it was unnecessary for the governor or anyone else to ask him whether he would work for the party's success in the campaign, as he plainly had shown a willingness to do his utmost.
"I have been working for the Democratic party since I was 18 years old," remarked the white-haired Missourian, "and I intend to go on working for it."
Reed Attacks Hoover
Reed launched into an attack on Herbert Hoover, declaring he did not believe the American people were ready to name as their President so "shift" a man who, he added, had been converted into a Republican overnight "so that he could get into a Republican cabinet and when he left there he was running for President."
"Hoover," he said as he terminated the interview "is an organized political appetite."

Local Legion Picnic Sunday

The American Legion will hold a picnic next Sunday at Crane's Hollow in Watson Hollow. All Legionnaires, their families and friends are invited. There will be a baseball game between members of the Legion and the Boy Scouts, hiking and fishing and games for the children.

Crane's Hollow is reached by the West Shokan boulevard, past Watson Hollow Inn to the West Shokan road. The camp is about one-quarter mile from the state road.

Watson Hollow is one of the loveliest spots of the Catskills. High mountain ranges surround the valley and one of the best trout streams in this section surges its way past the camping ground. It is a most charming place in which to spend a day. A large number of Legionnaires and their families are expected. Basket lunches should be taken for dinner and supper, or meals may be cooked over open fires.

Cars not entirely occupied are asked to meet at the American Legion Building Sunday morning at 10 o'clock to pick up Legionnaires who have no transportation.

Troop 10, American Legion Boy Scouts, will journey to the camp on Sunday afternoon, and will camp on Saturday night and Sunday in the morning. They will be accompanied by Scoutmaster Leudtke and a half dozen members of Kingston Post.

Planning to Make Texas Republican

Tentative Plans for Anti-Smith Organization Drafted by Democrats Who May Name Campaign Committee and Manager.

Dallas, Texas, July 11 (P).—Texas opposed to the nomination of Governor Alfred E. Smith today were occupied with plans to place the state in the Republican column in November.

Tentative plans for an anti-Smith organization were drafted here yesterday at a meeting of leaders of Texas Democrats who have announced they will not support the New York governor and have threatened to bolt the party. Another session was called for July 17 to perfect such an organization.

Among those attending the conference were former State Senator V. A. Collins and Oscar B. Colquhett, twice governor of Texas. Collins and Colquhett were leaders of the constitutional or "bone dry" Democrats who waged a bitter fight to instruct state delegates to the national party convention against Governor Smith.

Senator Collins stated after the conference that it was decided to recommend to the meeting July 17 that a state executive committee composed of one member from each senatorial district of Texas be created, and that a chairman and a campaign manager be named.

Others who attended the conference said resolutions urging voters to support Herbert Hoover for President probably would be presented to the July 17 meeting.

Meanwhile, old line Democrats awaited news from New York of national campaign plans before beginning the battle which their leaders have said will be waged to roll up the normal Democratic majority in Texas next November.

Rival Nurses Strive to Please Till It Hurts!

Mexico City.—Fights between ambulance crews of the Red Cross of Mexico City and the "Green Cross" rival charitable organization, each striving to outdo the other in the number of accident cases handled, have resulted in further injuries to patients already hurt and being taken to hospitals.

The Red Cross chapter complained to police that Green Cross ambulances have attached Red Cross ambulances bound for a hospital with accident victims. It was alleged that in some cases the injured had been forcibly removed from a Red Cross ambulance by the staff of a Green Cross car.

Police plan to assign zones to each ambulance service to prevent further trouble.

19-Year-Old Oklahoman Is Champion Farmer
Jones, Okla.—Although he is only nineteen years old, Ed Loop is a champion farmer.

He has won $1,150 in cash prizes in the last seven years at agricultural exhibitions, and has received 300 ribbons. His exhibits included 37 farm crops, three breeds of chickens, pigs and sheep.

Competing against adults, Ed won third place for two successive years in a corn growing contest sponsored by the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce, and last year he crowned his efforts by taking the grand prize. The youth enjoys an income of $700 a year from only two of his ventures—egg and honey production.

He now is attempting to graft paper-shell pecans on native pecans and English walnuts on black walnuts.

Femininity Will Dominate Styles

New York, July 11 (P).—Women's skirts this fall will continue just to cover the knees if the style dictum of the Carment Retailers of America is followed.

The semi-annual fashion promenade of the association at the Hotel Astor last night revealed that the spirit of femininity would continue to dominate.

Exaggerated dips and drooping ends of draperies were featured in evening gowns with the primers outline largely in favor. Many were embellished with flowers.

In the dress silhouette, a somewhat close fitting bodice prevailed, but the skirt was invariably flared. Ensemble costumes were much in evidence. Velvet appeared the favorite among fabric mediums, satin, charmeuse for dresses and moire for evening wear.

Fur trimmings were prominent on sport and dressy coats and were even displayed on some evening models. Fur wraps concentrated on ermine, broadtail, seal, caracul and leopard. One furrier advocated the return of the muff and displayed a sport coat.

Auction Sales Attract Crowds.

Patriments who seem to take pleasure in saying that there is no business going on in Kingston, will find a refutation of their statement by taking a walk to Field Court on Tuesdays of each week and seeing the crowd of men attending the auction at the Elmer Palen stables just off of Broadway. Not only horses are sold but autos, flowers, jewelry and furniture, all the sales being, as the auctioneer says, "for the high dollar."

SOLVE MYSTERY OF FLYING FISH Both Flapping and Soaring Methods Used.

New York.—That troublesome question, "How do flying fishes fly?" is still puzzling scientists, although many attempts to solve the mystery have been made.

J. T. Nichols, curator of recent fishes at the American Museum of Natural History, and C. M. Breder, Jr., research associate of the New York aquarium, find some truth in both sides of the argument as to whether these fishes sustain their flight by flapping of the wings, or pectoral fins, or whether they merely soar as gliders.

Writing in Natural History, the museum's journal, the ichthyologists say: "The flight is largely a planing one, but at certain times and under certain conditions a definite wing motion may enter into and contribute to it. The enlarged pectoral fins or wings are on anatomical grounds and structurally—from an engineering point of view—ideal gliding planes, so arranged as to be easily held rigid at the proper angle.

"The wings of large flying fishes are sometimes seen to vibrate or flutter, a motion more reasonably referable to tension in setting them, or to the wind, than to a definite function in flight. In very small and young fishes, on the other hand, the wings vibrate to such an extent that they blur, like those of a flying insect.

"It seems that with an increase in age and size, a buzzing, bee-like flight is replaced by a true soaring flight and that the former is very likely a function of absolute size as are so many larval specializations.

"Flying fishes fly more freely in a strong breeze and attain greater elevation, speed and distance than in calm weather. The conclusion is almost inevitable that they utilize the wind to some extent to lift and propel them, even though it is difficult to understand how this would be accomplished.

The observations were based on the collection of flying fishes gathered by William Beebe's Arcturus expedition.

Grant as "Slaveholder"

Clydes Simpson Grant was at one time technically a slave owner. After he graduated from West Point he was sent to St. Louis for garrison duty. Near that city lived one of his class mates, Frederick T. Dent, whose father owned a large plantation known as White Haven and enough negro slaves to live in characteristic southern comfort. In 1848, upon his return from the Mexican war, Grant was married at White Haven to Julia Dent, the sister of his classmate. The elder Dent made the young couple a present of a slave boy. Of course General Grant never trafficked in slaves.—Kansas City Star.

Not Fighting

Arthur and James are cousins and inclined to fight with each other, despite grandmother's repeated warnings.

The other morning, hearing a commotion, she hurried to the door, to find the two youngsters clutching each other and rolling about on the porch.

"Boys," she scolded, "how can you fight like this after what you promised me?"

"We wuzn't fightin'," answered James as they both hastily straightened up; "we wuz jest tryin' to separate each other."—Chicago Tribune

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By the Associated Press.)

East Orange, N. J.—James Reid Harrison, who has five granddaughters, has a grandson and has given him $2,699. Every child born in the hospital while the grandson is there will receive a present. A radio program will be given in honor of the nurse.

New York.—Cannibal mosquitoes are to be obtained in Paris by Mrs. Charles B. Williams, chairman of the conservation committee of the Federation of Women's Clubs and head of the anti-mosquito committee in Flushing. She is to make a special trip to get them from a doctor who offers as many as she wishes, with the assurance that they like other ordinary mosquitoes, but not humans.

Calvary, Ala.—Viscount Willingdon, Governor General of Canada, is now Chief Morning Light. The Stony tribe of Indians so created him "I am more proud of you than ever." Lady Willingdon told the new chief, "You look positively delightful."

New York.—Paul Keelther, chief boatswain's mate of the coast guard, possesses one of the rarest honors. For diving in his sea boots beneath a churning propeller and rescuing a shipmate he was awarded a gold medal by the Treasury Department. The medal, authorized by congress in 1784, has not been bestowed for 22 years.

Burbank, Cal.—Would Mayor Walker of New York accept a contract for the moving of a progressive salary starting with $10,000 a week? No sir. The contract stipulated that he must be punctual. "There is not enough money in California to keep a New York Mayor on time," he explained. He thought it was all hokey, anyhow.

London.—Ships of the desert will be amazed. Captain Malcolm Campbell, auto speedster, is going 200 miles into Syria to find a level stretch of sand for an effort to shatter the world's record of 207 1/2 miles an hour.

New York.—There's one thing that can't be given away in the big town. Officials of the street cleaning department are pondering what to do with crapped automobiles. Owners of vacant lots are complaining. A junkman laughs when offered one.

Washington.—Progress is noted by Major General George S. Gibbs. Twenty-nine years ago the government ordered two points in Alaska 500 miles apart connected by telegraph. It took three years. Recently two points 800 miles apart were ordered joined by radio. It took 51 hours, equipment being dispatched by plane.

Los Angeles.—The first man to be awarded alimony in the state must struggle along on $150 a month. William E. Elliott lost his suit for more than that from his wife, who owns much realty. He obtained alimony when a divorce was granted him on the ground of her ungovernable temper.

NEW HURLEY

Grave Diggers Kick
To do, Ohio.—Grave digging is an important operation and should entail important money for the men who do it, seven grave diggers of Forest cemetery here believe. Their wages recently were cut from 70 cents an hour to 55; and they are objecting strenuously.

Up-to-Date Shopping
New York.—Drop a coin in the slot for what you wish to buy and receive your change and a "thank you" from a mechanical man. A robot is to be used by a merger of automatic merchandising companies.

Bolt Tears Up Girl's Shoes and Stockings
Petersburg, Va.—Susie Burrow, twelve years old, daughter of Joseph Burrow of Prince Georges county, had a narrow escape from death by lightning recently at Burrowsville, when a bolt tore her shoes and stockings to shreds.

Struck the child, who was visiting her aunt and was in a room with another child lying upon a bed, ran down stairs and discovered blood issuing from a gash in her foot. After apparently passing through the girl's foot, the lightning flashed under the bed and continued through the house, doing considerable damage to ceilings and walls.
